fun facts TASK CARDS

...are perfect for using as enrichment for those students who enjoy learning MORE, for self-checking centers, and as take-to-your-seat early-finisher activities.

DiRections

First, print the cards and laminate. Then, punch a hole in each of the circles on the cards. On the back of the card, use a permanent marker (I like to use a light color such as yellow) to draw a circle around the hole of the correct answer. When students stick their pencil through the hole of their answer, they can peek at the back to see if they were correct.

Storage

These task cards are 4x6, making them the perfect size for storing in photo containers. I found this photo storage unit with 16 individual photo cases at a craft store. Perfect for storing, and for small hands to grab and take to their desks for independent use!
